That's it.....summer's over and now we're into the school year and, after what seemed to be a pretty hot summer, hopefully some cooler weather.

Although there was no BoT meeting in August things kept hopping.

NVLS All-Star Meet - A BIG thanks to the entire community and especially those nearer Pool #2 for all their cooperation with the Northern Virginia Swim League (NVSL) All-Star meet held the first weekend of August. It was a great success and once again LRR shined as a GREAT community. For the statistical people, the NVSL has over 100 swim teams from the northern VA area and is arguably one of the largest in the nation.

Townhouse Parking - Just a quick reminder that the BoT will be discussing townhouse parking at the September 15th meeting which will be at the Little Rocky Run Recreation Center #1 (13775 Little Rocky Run Circle) at 7pm. See last month's Run for additional info.

New Recycling Containers - These started to arrive in late August with only a few single family residences preferring not to accept them. Since one of the main reasons for providing these is to keep the community clear of flying recyclables, please make sure that if you are continuing to use the open bins that they are packed in a way to ensure that recyclables don't blow out. All recyclable items can be put into one container and do not have to be sorted. See pages 12-14 for information regarding items that should not be put in the recycling containers.

Volunteers. WE NEED YOU! With the fall starting we continue to look for additional volunteers for some of our committees. Most important at the moment is the Budget and Finance (B&F) Committee. We are entering the budget cycle which will result in our HOA dues for the budget year that will go into effect April 1, 2017. We have a couple of gentlemen who have stepped up or are considering helping us to get this committee back up and operational and could use a couple more just to help spread out the tasks. This is not a difficult job but one that is important so that the BoT are not the only ones making all the financial decisions for YOUR money. No accounting degree or experience is required. Anyone who owns property in LRR already has proven they can handle finances at the level we need. Please consider joining – contact the HOA office or the BoT Treasurer if you are interested.

If B&F isn't interesting to you, please consider other committees –Community Activities, ARB, Open Space, Pool and Tennis; there is always a need.

Thanks in advance and have a good September.

Parking RVs, Boats, Recreational Vehicles and Trailers

With the summer months winding down, and the cooler fall months upon us, more people will be enjoying outdoor recreational activities such as camping, boating and water sports. The Little Rocky Run HOA wants to remind residents that any motorhomes, RVs, pop-up trailers, large or motorized boats, jet skis, or boat/utility trailers must be located inside an enclosed garage if located on the single-family homeowner's property, otherwise any or all of these types of recreational vehicles must be parked on a VDOT public street outside of the Little Rocky Run community or Springfield District. The Springfield District has a CPD, Community Parking District, which prohibits the parking of these types of vehicles on any VDOT streets within the district. Also, any RV, motorhome, pop-up trailer, boat or any type of utility trailer may not be parked on the privately owned LRR townhome streets or on the common areas.

Trees on Common Area

Please notify the Little Rocky Run HOA office of any dead and/or leaning trees located on the Common Areas which overhang your property, or the walking paths which might present a safety hazard. Reports should be made directly to the Facilities Manager and may take 1-3 weeks to rectify the situation. Please provide as much information as possible when making the tree report, such as a closest address or street intersection, and any contact information. Call the HOA office at 703-830-0411 or email maintenance@littlerockyrunhoa.org.

REMINDER

Trash cans and recycling bins (even new larger wheeled recycling containers) MUST be stored inside the garage or inside the rear yard for both single-family and townhouse residences. See pages 12-14 to see what should NOT go into recycling. All other materials can be combined into the new larger bins.

Two Part Series: Contaminants

10 of the WORST Contaminants to keep OUT of your Recycling Container/Bin:

Part 1

The Dictionary defines Contamination as "the unwanted pollution of something by another substance".

This definition is perfect when you consider that "recycling contaminants" are items or substances that pollute recyclables, and damage the clean recycling stream. Essentially turning your recycling into trash.

Keeping your recycling bin clear of any contaminants ensures that we keep recycling centers clean, operational and able to produce clean bales. This in turn makes it possible to create high quality, new recycled goods. It is all connected, and it all starts with YOU!

Below is part one of our two-part series on The WORST Contaminants to Keep OUT of your bin!

1. Plastic Bags and Films

Plastic bags and anything made from the same plastic material (called a "film"), such as plastic shrink wrap, bubble wrap, Ziploc bags, newspaper bags, trash bags, etc. are the NUMBER ONE contaminant in the Recycling industry.

Bags and films wrap around the large rotating gears in the recycling sorting machinery, causing the entire recycling center to shut down until they are removed!

Plastic bags and all types of films mentioned above can be recycled, but they must be separated from other single stream recyclables. They must go to another type of recycling facility made specifically for recycling plastic bags and films into high quality decking and benches!

Bag drop-off locations can be found at any neighborhood grocery store, Walmart or Target, so save your bags and films at home until you can make a trip to drop them off for proper recycling!

But remember, once they end up at the recycling center they cannot be recycled correctly, as listed above. At that point, they are destined for the landfill. So make sure to recycle bags and films ONLY at plastic bag drop off locations!

2. Materials contained INSIDE Plastic Bags

Always try to collect your recyclables loose in the container, or in a paper bag (large, brown paper yard waste bags found at home improvement stores are a good choice).

Workers have to slow the sorting process down by ripping open bags that contain recyclables, empty it out and then add that bag to the other bags that are now destined for the landfill.

*The ONLY exception is shredded paper, which should be put in the recycling bin in clear plastic bags only, this is so the facility workers can identify it quickly. Shredded paper needs to be in a bag since the shreds are too small to be loose and would get lost, or blow away if they are not contained.

3. Hazardous Waste

Automotive fluids, car batteries, paint, pesticides and other hazardous waste must be taken to Household Hazardous Waste Facilities or participating drop off locations, not the Recycling Center.

Make sure to keep these items out of your recycling bin to avoid a dangerous and volatile situation. If you are unsure if your item is a hazardous material, contact your waste and recycling hauler, or your local landfill.

4. Diapers or Other Bio-Hazardous Waste

Diapers (dirty OR clean) are NOT Recyclable. It is impossible to reclaim the paper used to make them.

Additionally, any personal hygiene product soiled in human fluids poses a health risk to our employees.

Currently, there are no technologies available to recycle the paper and plastic used to make disposable diapers, so diapers remain trash and should be disposed of as such.

Syringes and needles should also be disposed of in your trash can, only when contained inside a solid, impenetrable, capped container; such as an empty detergent bottle.

*PLEASE NOTE: Once a container is used to contain needles or syringes, as mentioned above, it can no longer be recycled (even if the container is made from plastic) and will instead need to be disposed of as trash.

5. Wrappers, Flexible Packaging and Polystyrene

Many items made from plastic or partially plastic material are still not recyclable.

New packaging techniques, such as using "flexible packaging" are trending but unfortunately this material is not recyclable. Common examples of flexible packaging include stand up pouches like Capri Sun®, bags of coffee, bags containing dried fruit or nuts; i.e. any bag or container that feels to be a thick plastic film and is flexible in nature.

Wrappers and similar materials are also not recyclable. Examples include: candy wrappers, potato chip bags, etc. Though these materials cannot be recycled in the traditional sense, there is a growing market for "upcycling" these materials, which means re-purposing them into other goods while still in their original form; like purses made from gum or candy wrappers that have been woven together.

Polystyrene (Styrofoam®) also remains unable to be recycled at single stream recycling facilities, and should stay out of your bin.

Stay Tuned Next Month for Part 2 of Our Series!

Book Drive for Children

Throughout the month of September, the Optimist Club is collecting new or gently-used books for children 0-9 years old whose parents are attending Mountain View Alternative High School near our Little Rocky Run community. A donation box is located at the HOA office (Rec Center #2).

According to a report on reading literacy in the U.S., 61% of low-income families have no books at all in their homes, for their children. The book drive is one of many community service programs run by Optimist Clubs that are dedicated to bringing out the best in kids. An Optimist Club is made up of men and women who want to positively impact their community. If you want to know more about forming a Little Rocky Run Optimist Club, email your contact information to Dee Rushforth at deerush4th@aol.com.

Mountain View Alternative High School offers programs designed to help students whose life circumstances often result in interrupted schooling. Enrolled are students who may be pregnant or parenting, English Language Learners, older students who are returning to finish their high school graduation requirements and students who need a flexible or extended program to accommodate their work or family situations. Students with severe discipline problems are not a target population for this school. Mountain View focuses on school-to-work plans and prepares students for post-secondary opportunities including college, employment, specialty schools, and the military.
